Mladen Grcic is affectionate "Greatest Dad"

By NANCY POULER

A very affectionate old fashioned father was chosen to be Antioch's Greatest Dad through the efforts of his bright and respectful son.

Mladen Grcic was excited and surprised to discover that his nine-year old son, Milos had nominated him as best father in the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry sponsored contest.

"I couldn't believe it when they called me," Grcic exclaimed with a huge smile dominating his strong countenance.

"At first I thought it was the school calling. When she asked if I was proud of my son, I thought she was talking about his record at school," he said.

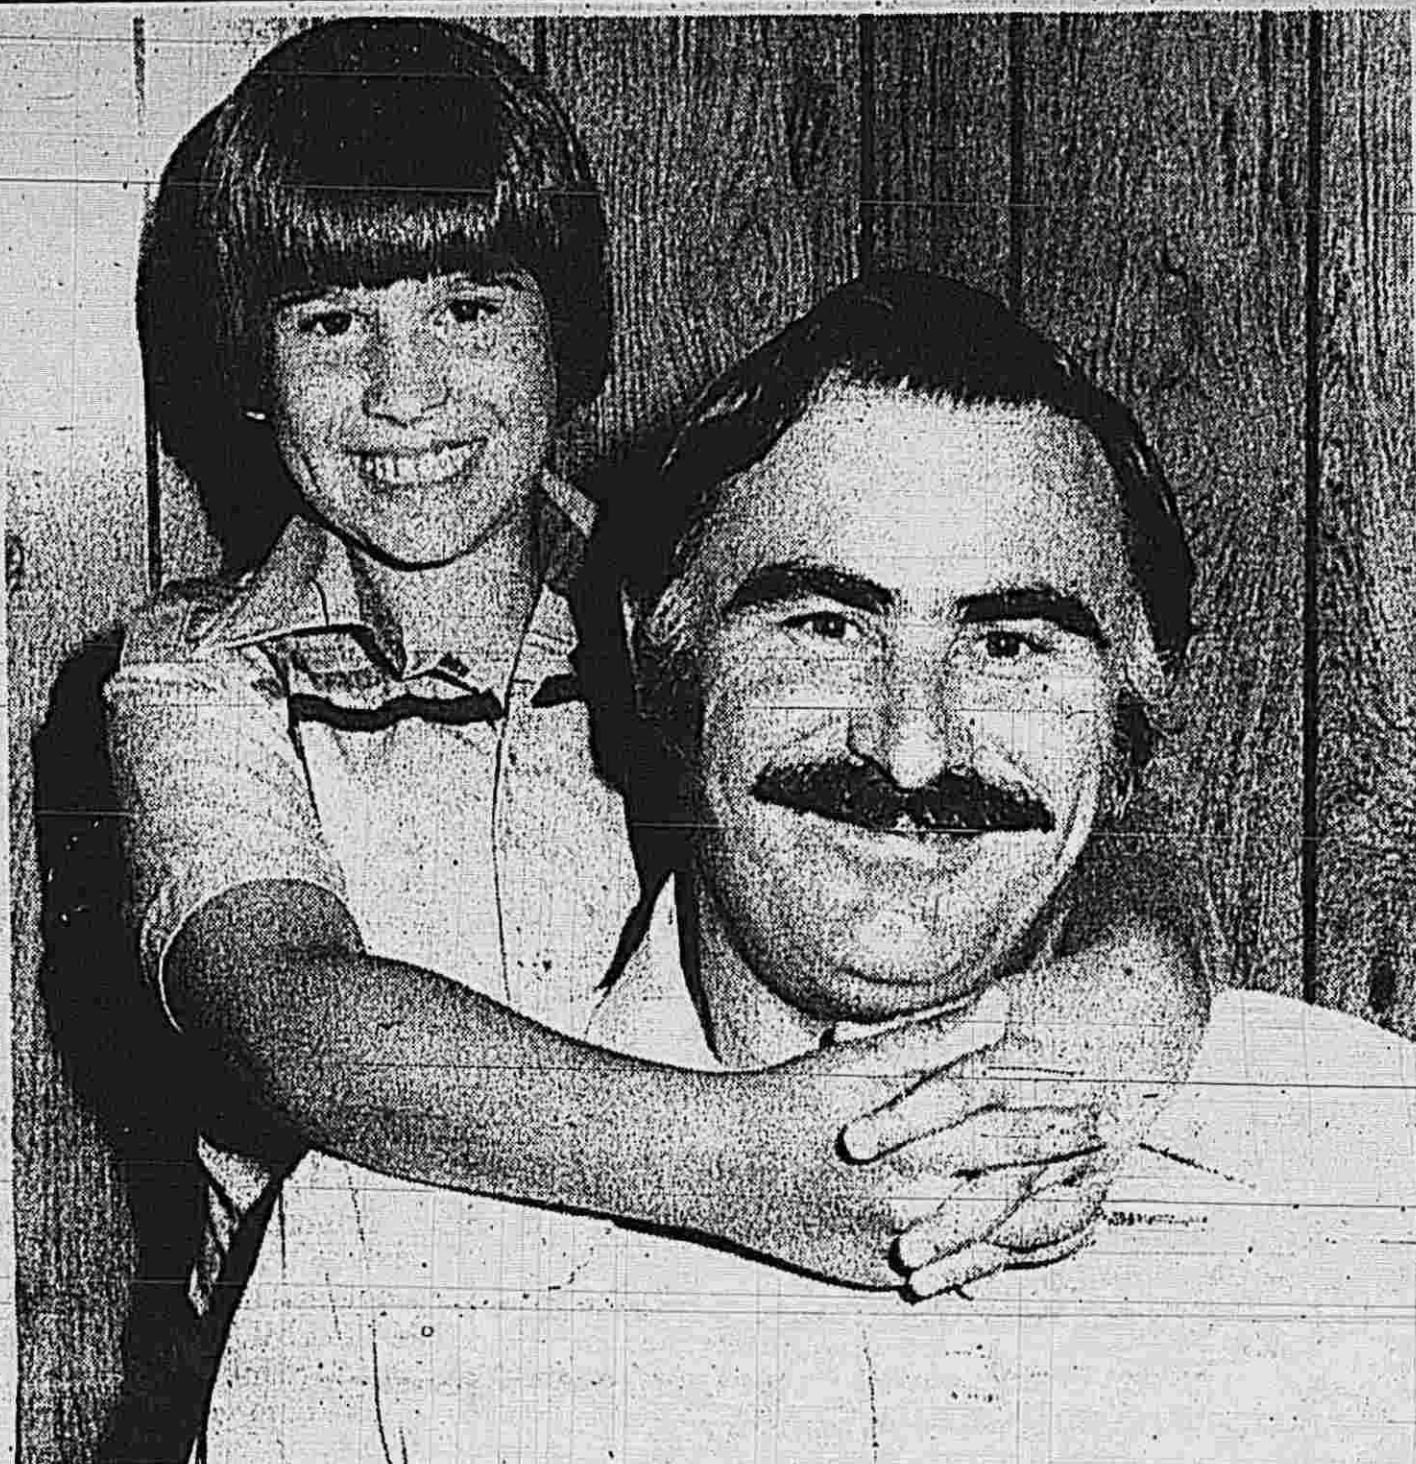

Grcic was unaware that Milos had written the essay, and was doubly surprised when chosen to win the multitude of prizes.

As a man reared in Yugoslavia with a conservative philosophy towards rearing children, Grcic believes in physical expressions of love as a means to become close and gain the child's respect, he said.

"I give lots of love. I want my children to be my kids — not running the streets," he explained in broken English.

"Kids need their parents to tell them right and wrong when they are little," he said.

Grcic and his wife, Sondra, own and operate the Brauhaus on Rte. 173 where they have an apartment in order to keep their family which includes besides Milos, a daughter, Zora, 13, close to them 24 hours a day.

Heavy rains last weekend sent fish to deep water, which means Chain O' Lakes fishermen will have to be altering their strategies, according to Ed Sorenson, Sorenson's Bait Shop, Antioch.

Fish are at the eight to 10 foot level.

Channel Lake and Lake Marie have been producing the best catches in the Antioch area, according to Sorenson.

Early in the week Sorenson noted a rising barometer which is a sure sign that fish will be rising to the surface.

CABL asks law change to smaller lots

by NANCY POULER

The Antioch Village Board agreed to propose changing the subdivision ordinance on minimum size of single family lots after discussing CABL's financial problems with representatives of CABL, proposed 171 acre subdivision north of the Upper Grade School.

The ordinance now requires a minimum of 70 foot frontage with a total lot area of 8,000 sq. ft.

The village board committee proposed to change the law to read that 50 per cent of lots in a subdivision be allowed at 65 ft. with remainder at 70 ft. or over. The minimum of 8,000 square feet total area was retained.

There was much discussion about the planned revision, with Trustee William Seemann voting against the proposed change, commenting that since he was the one who first proposed the 70 foot requirement, he still was "not in favor of smaller lots."

Mayor Haley observed, "We are not a Barrington — we are Antioch and I am proud Antioch is like it is," when told by the developer Robert Campbell, that 70 foot lots would be too expensive for prospective buyers.

Campbell estimated that 65 foot lots would sell for $21,900 and 70 foot ones for $1,000 more at next year's prices.

Citing the costs in developing the land to accommodate 440 single family and 220 multi-family units coupled with expense of water main restrictions imposed by village ordinance and park and school land donations, Campbell contended the costs would be "astronomical" and would endanger the whole project.

Having some 65 foot lots to sell would help offset the expense, he felt.

The problem of CABL's required donation of 24 acres for parks and 10 to the school district, according to village ordinance, was set aside by the board until they could talk to school and park authorities.

Campbell proposed that in lieu of 34 acres total dedication of park and school land, that the ten acres alongside the south edge of the property already earmarked for dedication to the grade school district be developed by CABL with tennis courts, play equipment, ball diamonds, etc.

"If we have to come up with an additional 24 acres, the cost will be astronomical," Campbell stated.

Asked if perhaps an additional five acre site could be incorporated as a park at another location on the 171 acres which will house an estimated 2,366 people, Campbell said it was a possibility but that he was not sure they would then be willing to equip the school's ten acres.

The board decided to consult with school authorities before continuing negotiations on the park land.

Bill plugs loopholes in unemployment pay

An important first step in tightening the elasticity of the state's unemployment insurance program was taken Tuesday when the Senate voted 57-0 to support a bill sponsored by Sen. Karl Berning (R-Deerfield).

Senate Bill 1264 requires persons receiving unemployment insurance checks to appear in person every other week.

"Although the law requires unemployment insurance beneficiaries to remain within Illinois and actively seek jobs, too often these people move to other states while receiving benefits and then mail in the required form. Or else they take out-of-state vacations while they are supposed to be looking for work," Berning said.

"If people are going to receive benefits from the state, the least they can do is stay in the state and look for work. No longer will they be able to mail in their forms, if this bill passes," the Senator added.

Berning acknowledged his bill "is a small step toward plugging some of the many loopholes in the unemployment insurance program. But I am encouraged that the bill passed with such wide support, Democrats included. Perhaps they are now ready to look at some other ways to cut down on the waste and inefficiency of the program."

Letters To The Editor

(Editor's Note: The following letter was sent to Sister Mary Roche, principal of St. Peter's School, and to the School Faculty, with a copy to the Antioch News.)

Dear Sister and Faculty,
May we express our sincere appreciation on the "Outstanding Job" you have done in the instruction and discipline of our children attending St. Peter's.

We, the St. Peter's School Board, have seen a tremendous growth in our children. This has inspired the true Christian Community which we have been striving for. Needless to say, this is the result of your dedicated direction.

It has been a pleasure to work together for such a rewarding goal.

Sincerely,
St. Peter's
School Board

OWES APOLOGY

Editor:

On June 7, the Antioch Upper Grade School held their graduation ceremony. Mrs. Gail Heath, president of the school board, took the podium and introduced Dr. Skidmore, superintendent, Mr. Herbst, principal, and the board members.

After the introductions, Mrs. Heath proceeded to tell the audience that it was a special occasion and she wanted to introduce six very special graduates.

Coincidentally, the six consisted of the children and relations of Dr. Skidmore, Mr. Herbst, Mrs. Heath, and the board members.

Speaking as a parent, I feel my daughter and every graduate of the class of 1979 are just as special.

Mrs. Gail Heath owes every graduate, their parents, and relatives an apology for her extreme poor taste and lack of judgement.

EVERYONE LOSES

Editor:

This is concerning last night's school board meeting (June 5, 1979). The people of Channel Lake have been opposed to the busing of the kindergarten through second grades to Oakland School. Some of which will be going over 10 miles one way.

It seems to me that the school board is not there for the people like we have been told, they are there for the administration. You told us to come up with alternatives, which we did. One way was to take children from Antioch school that will be going to Oakland and transfer them in August '79; put Channel Lake children in Antioch with the children that will be going to the new school.

We were told that it would be impossible to draw a boundary line in Oakwood Knolls at this time. Aren't you going to do that when Petty School opens anyway?

We were also told that our questions would be answered June 5, at my observed maybe three out of 10 questions asked by concerned parents were answered by the board. Questions asked at the previous meeting were answered June 5.

As far as the rebuttal at this meeting, all I heard was a lot of silences from the board. None of the parents said anything about friction between Antioch and Channel Lake people, to my knowledge that was not an issue. Mr. Haley seems to think so. Maybe being a member of the board he knows more about that than the rest of us. Is that one of the underlying issues with the board members?

Do they feel that we, being six miles from town have no say so in what happens to our small children? That it is OK for our children to be pushed around like chess pieces? Shouldn't we be concerned about their emotional well being? Did they really take part of a day at Channel Lake school after the previous meeting. They never said what they did at Channel Lake. It was never answered why parents of special education children from Antioch got the decision reversed about moving them to Channel Lake school. The savings of $55,000 never entered the picture until that decision was reversed by the board.

The parents of special education kids presented their arguments to the board as an emotional one. It would be to traumatic to move those children temporarily to Channel Lake school. If it would have been done, the Antioch school would have the learning center back (that's where these kids are being taught now). This was one of the reasons for the addition at the Antioch school.

The way it stands now, everyone loses. Nobody gets anything, but the board gets to save money. Our children lose their friends, stability and valuable learning time by being transferred to Oakland; then going over to the new school when it is completed. Some of these small children get to be in three different schools before they get into second grade.

If one child is harmed either emotionally or physically I will hold each member of the board and administration personally responsible. It proves one thing to me, it's where you live and who you what counts. It's too bad, because I thought we all had the children in mind when this whole thing started.

Okays nuclear bill

Sen. Karl Berning (R-Deerfield) announced the Senate approved a comprehensive statewide plan of action in the event of a disastrous nuclear accident, with the costs to be borne by the utilities which operate nuclear stations.

"Illinois is the most nuclear-powered state in the nation, and we should also be the most prepared," Berning said.

"This is an extensive plan, one that probably never will be used, but one that should be ready," Berning said. "And, it doesn't require taxpayers to fund it."

Antioch Grade School staff gets raises

Salary schedules for the 1979-80 school year were passed by the Antioch Grade School Board.

Administrative staff salaries represent an average increase of 7.8 per cent over last year.

Bus drivers will receive a raise of 7.84 per cent, cafeteria staff 7.4 per cent, custodians 8.48 per cent and clerical workers 8.16 per cent.

A REPORT ON the evaluation of the high school teacher aid program was presented. The program began the second semester of the 1979-80 school year, with six students participating.

The evaluation of the program included reports from teachers and the students who participated.

Participating students suggested the course be a full year rather than one semester to allow aids to get to know the students better.

They also recommended that it be expanded to two credits and that juniors as well as seniors be allowed to take the class.

IN OTHER ACTION the board approved report recommendations from the Language Arts Curriculum Committee and the Kindergarten Curriculum Report.

The kindergarten report said teachers would be assisted if incoming students could be screened.

The Kindergarten Committee recommended the Lippincott program which covers the instruction of basic letters and sounds.

The plan is to test kindergarten pupils in the fall for hearing, vision, speech, fine and gross motor and cognitive skills. The first six weeks will be spent teaching reading readiness and the new program will be completed during the school year.

THE PROJECTED COST for textbooks for the next school year is $34,000. This amount does not include about $5,000 worth of textbooks received under the Illinois Student Textbook loan program.

Suggested rental fees for grades one through five are $19 and for grades six through eight are $25. The latter figure includes towels for physical education classes.

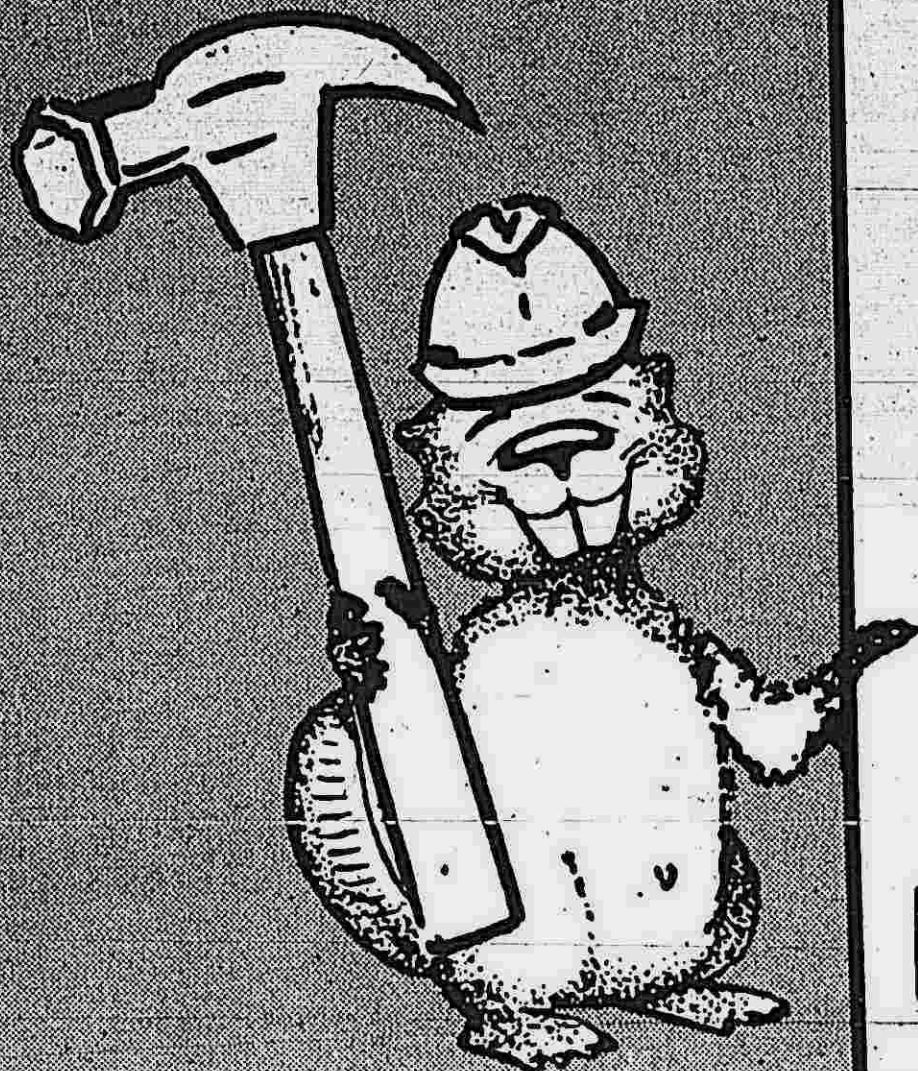

A new program is being offered in developmental reading for seventh and eighth grade students. The program will incorporate reading and study skills.

The next board meeting was cancelled, so the board will convene at its next scheduled meeting, at 8 p.m. July 3.

SORRY for the INCONVENIENCE!

It is hoped that everyone will be understanding and patient during the construction of our new addition, as the end result will be a banking facility that you will be proud of. In an effort to alleviate some of the problems, especially from a safety standpoint, the rear entrance to the Bank will be closed. Until the situation improves, customers are asked to use the front entrance on Lake Street only; walk-up customers included; and to use the parking lot on the west side of Spafford Street, which is convenient to the front entrance.

Happy 50th Ed and Lou

by NANCY POULER

One of Antioch's prominent couples responsible for guiding the community towards both prosperity and social consciousness celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary June 5.

Edmund and Louise Vos, two of Antioch's favorite people were honored, much to their surprise, with a special toast and celebration of their 50th anniversary during the annual Mental Health Cottillion held at the Abbey in Lake Geneva.

The testimonial was most appropriately incorporated in this charity event which Mrs. Vos was instrumental in conceiving as founder of the Antioch Mental Health Association.

Mr. Vos is well known state wide for his business acumen. He owned a lumber business in Antioch for 51 years until he retired in 1973 and still is owner of Lake Villa Lumber Co.

He served as the first president of the Antioch Lions Club and is presently chairman of the Board of the First National Bank of Antioch.

His many fishing buddies will attest to his prowess in not only catching the biggest bass but in hunting deer also.

Besides founding and working constantly on the Mental Health group as chairman of the Thrift Shop, Mrs. Vos is former president of the Antioch Womens' Club, and served as board member of the Antioch Township Library for 30 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Vos have one daughter Luisa Andrae of Elm Grove and two grandchildren.

The toast given to them at the Cottillion expresses the heartfelt gratitude not only the Mental Health group has towards this pioneering couple, but, the thanks, from the whole community of Antioch.

Golden wedding toast:

"On this joyous occasion it seems fitting and appropriate that we join in offering a toast to a highly esteemed couple in our company tonight; and so to Ed and Louise our sincerest congratulations on the celebration of your Golden Wedding - an achievement rarely reached among those we have come to know and love.

"For a half century you have been wedded not only to each other but also you both have been wedded to duty and responsibility. Your personal successes in business and the comforts of life are well known and long since secure.

"However, in a more lofty and courageous spirit you both are more widely and favorably heralded. Your presence here at this moment attests to your abiding interest in the things most worthwhile to the people of Antioch and its environs.

"Your fostering hands in affairs governmental, social, religious, and charitable have made the Vos name a household word among all ages in our community. The records of the many organizations founded in the larger Antioch area over the years give evidence of participation by Ed and Louise Vos. Their names are written large in the hearts of so many.

"Ed and Louise, we lift our glasses and drink to your health and happiness in the many golden years ahead. Don't let a thing ever change you - we like you just the way you are. God bless you and may you have a "closer walk" with each other and with us in the years ahead."

Antioch State Bank regrets

The State Bank of Antioch officials are asking that their many customers use the front entrance on Lake St. during the period of construction on their new addition.

"The State Bank of Antioch sincerely regrets the inconvenience their customers are experiencing," Vice President Preston Reckers explained.

"It is hoped that everyone will be understanding and patient throughout this temporary period, as the end result will be a banking facility that will better serve their customers and greatly enhance the community," he continued.

In an effort to alleviate some of the problems, that have arisen, especially from a safety standpoint, the rear entrance to the Bank will be closed.

Until the situation improves, customers are asked to use the front entrance on Lake St. only; walk-up customers included; and use the parking lot on the west side of Spafford St., which is convenient to the front entrance, he said.

In the interest of safety, State Bank has posted a large sign reminding customers to use the Lake St. entrance.

Disability income insurance pays you money if you are disabled. Like life insurance, whenever the condition insured against exists, you are entitled to collect. Unlike life insurance, the insurance is concerned with the cause of the disability. They may or may not pay your benefits for a particular loss. Disability income policies can look identical but little changes in the clauses down in the fine print can often make the difference whether you collect, and if so how much. We are going to discuss a lot of the details of these policies, what to look for and what to avoid. The best procedure, as always, is to use an agent you already know and trust. Then you can't go too far wrong.

Disability income policies insure against loss due to sickness and separately against loss due to injury. Some policies insure against only one. Be sure the policy you're looking at insures against both accident and sickness. Be sure also, that you know the conditions under which you will or will not collect. First, the coverage against illness. The companies generally impose what they call a "Waiting period." For a certain number of days after the start of the policy, you aren't covered for illness. If a sickness appears too soon after the policy starts, the company may consider it a pre-existing condition. They usually don't insure against pre-existing conditions (any disability or illness you had before you bought the policy). This is the next thing to check: how restrictive are they on pre-existing conditions after the waiting period. Some never cover them, the illness must have started after the policy for you to collect.

On the injury side of the coverage, be careful of the phrasing "independent of all other causes" in the definition of accidental. It can be used to restrict coverage if the company wants to claim contributing causes. For example, if you fell off a ladder because you got dizzy, the company could claim that the dizziness caused the injury, not falling off the ladder.

A few policies still have the old restriction that illnesses must be confining. If you leave your house, they will no longer consider you disabled. Don't take a policy with this restriction. There are a lot of good policies without it. It is standard for disability income policies to exclude coverage from any disability where you are collecting workman's compensation. Don't let this concern you if you see it in a policy. Look to make sure the policy is non-cancellable guaranteed renewable. Without them, the company might be able to cancel the policy and leave you without coverage. Remember, all payments received under a disability income policy in non-taxable. That advantage doesn't belong to any company.

ABOUT BUSING TO OAKLAND

Channel Lakes parents irate

BY NANCY POULER

Angry parents of Channel Lake Grade School children who are scheduled to be bused to Oakland Grade School this fall continue their fight to reverse the Board's decision made three months ago.

Basically their frustration and ire is because they were not consulted before the decision to bus to Oakland Grade School was made and that the busing will be over a long route, according to Pat Hucker, mother of one of the kindergarten through second graders affected.

"I was one of the parents who left angry from the school board meeting (June 5). By the time I reached home I was furious because there was a 45 minute set time to discuss the future of our children," Mrs. Hucker said. "We had many more questions but they were left unanswered and the meeting was closed."

Another mother, Kathy Turner said the parents had asked questions at the May meeting after she heard of the decision "in town."

These questions were answered at the June meeting but, according to the mothers, not to their satisfaction. Nor were the additional questions raised at the June meeting, Turner said.

"We are not happy about the busing, but we are willing to go along with it if the kids could go to Antioch Grade School," Hucker explained. "But, Oakland is too far for the little ones."

The board's reasoning, according to a statement made by Supt. Donald Skidmore, is "The obvious answer to this question is financial. By busing the three classes from Channel Lake to Oakland, the district will realize a savings of about $31,000 in teacher personnel and gain a credit of $24,000 from SEDOL for use of the three rooms at Channel Lake. Hence, a total of $55,000 is involved."

SEDOL children will be utilizing the three vacated classrooms at Channel Lake according to the board's plan, therefore the payment from SEDOL, he explained.

The problem of what to do with the some 33 K-2 students affected while the new William Petty School is being built was solved, the board felt, with the busing of the eight kindergartners, ten first graders and 15 second graders to Oakland where classroom size would then be of average size for the '79-'80 school year.

One of the options discussed by the board, according to Skidmore, was the placing of special education children in Channel Lake and busing the three small Channel Lake classes to Antioch Grade (where the special ed classes are now meeting).

However, that plan was dropped because K-2 classes at Antioch Grade School would be too large and also, the district would lose the $24,000 from SEDOL, he explained.

But, the concerned parents of the 33 youngsters to be bused aren't satisfied.

Annmarie DeServi, mother of a first grader and a kindergarten student contends,

"The size of the classrooms doesn't matter with a temporary thing. We feel keeping them closer to home and with their friends is more important."

"Is the emotional damage worth $55,000?" Turner asked.

Skidmore expressed his and the board's position with the statement, "In all honesty, I can appreciate the concerns expressed by the parents. If we had an option at no additional expense to the school district to keep the children at Channel Lake until the new school is open we would do so. Unfortunately that is not the case. Any option will cost the district additional money it need not spend. At a time when inflation is running rampant and tax payers are asking public officials to keep costs in check, I cannot in good conscience ask the district to spend money unnecessarily."

The board has made the decision and has given the parents an opportunity to come up with a feasible alternative at two different meetings, according to Skidmore, and since no other plan was suggested to offset the cost involved, the board intends to continue with their decision to bus the students to Oakland until they can be enrolled at the new school.

Antioch FFF Seniors to enjoy 'Oklahoma'

Ann Petrisko is taking reservations from the senior citizens who attend the Antioch Fun, Food and Friendship Center, for a trip to Fort Atkinson, Wis. to see "Oklahoma" at the Fireside Inn on June 30.

Cost for people registered at the center before June 26, will be $11.35, and will include bus transportation, lunch and the play. For those who register after, June 26, the cost is $17.45.

Seating on the bus will be as they register. Those registering first, will sit in front, and the last ones will be seated in the rear. The bus will leave from the Antioch Scout House on Main Street at 10:30 a.m.

The Center is not responsible for any injuries or accidents.

The FFF Center is moving from the Scout House to the Antioch Upper Grade School, 800 Highview Ave., Antioch, on June 11.

All persons 60 and over are welcome. If a spouse is younger, they are eligible. Lunch is served at noon and a speaker, film or games are played. Those attending are asked to donate whatever they can afford.

The cost for the meal now costs the Catholic Charities $1.74 per meal. This is 14 cents a meal higher than their present cost. Federal funding will help with an additional nine cents per meal increase; however, the remaining five cents per meal increase must be made from their meal contribution boxes

ExpressMail expanded

Antioch area residents can get overnight mail delivery to more than 500 cities with Express Mail, the Postal Service's new guaranteed, expedited delivery service, Postmaster Wayne Van Helsee announced.

"Express Mail became an official class of mail Oct. 9, 1977," he said. "Since then, we have been steadily expanding the number of cities Antioch area customers can reach."

EXPRESS MAIL began as an experimental overnight delivery service in 1970 between five cities and Washington, D.C.

"Locally deposited Express Mail shipments meet our guarantees more than 95 per cent of the time," Van Helsee said. "But if we don't perform as promised, the entire postage amount can be refunded, unless the delay was caused by strike or work stoppage."

International Express Mail Service is also available.

URINARY TRACT INFECTIONS

As many women know urinary tract infections are a nuisance. They occur far more often in women than in men, mainly because of the anatomical differences between the two sexes. Women have much shorter urethras, consequently, it is less difficult for the bacteria that cause urinary tract infections to enter a woman's bladder.

If you have an infection your doctor can prescribe the right antibiotic to help you recover. But the outcome of the treatment he prescribes depends largely on how well you follow his instructions.

A urinary tract infection is any bacterial infection involving the bladder or kidneys. If the infection is located in the bladder, it is called cystitis. If it is located in the kidneys, it is called pyelonephritis.

In most instances the bacteria that cause urinary tract infections come from your own body. Feces are loaded with bacteria, some of which can cause infection. Thus, wiping away from the vagina after a bowel movement helps to minimize the chances for bacterial contamination of the urinary tract.

In women, the symptoms of a urinary tract infection will usually include:

- 1) A burning sensation when you are urinating.
- 2) A need to urinate often, although only a scant amount is voided each time
- 3) Cloudy urine due to pus, bloody urine, back pain, fever or chills.

Occasionally, women will have no obvious symptoms of infection, but they will feel tired or lack of their usual energy.

Most symptomatic urinary tract infections are treated with antibiotics. Several factors determine the length of therapy and the type of antibiotic prescribed.

- 1) The specific site of the infection
- 2) The specific type of bacteria that is causing the infection, and
- 3) Whether or not this is a first time infection, or a recurrent one

Although the symptoms may disappear quickly, the bacteria that caused the infection may remain in the urinary tract for several days after you start to feel better. Therefore, it is important to take the antibiotic for the complete length of time it is prescribed in order to eradicate all the bacteria and perhaps prevent another infection from occurring.

Tigers, Cards hot Little League play

In Little League action, the Tigers and Cardinals were the hot teams this week. The Tigers received good pitching from Mike Jones and Vic Calonder along with some clutch hitting from ten-year-olds Joel Bachochin and Jeff Wolf. The Cardinals overpowered the Cubs 10-2. They played the Dodgers in what could be a preview of the championship. Cardinal Jeff Johnson threw a two hitter while yielding only one run while the Cards bats pounded out seven hits. Johnson's shutout was broken up by Rick Keefer with a line drive inside the park home run with two out in the sixth for the Dodgers. The Cardinals held on to win 3-1.

PM&L's 'Picnic' is one

by GLORIA DAVIS

With the players far outshining the play; a strong cast of old PM&L pros, led by Pam Guardi, Bill Shershon, Anne Marie Cina, Dee Baum, Don Beveroth and Lillian Allen, Antioch PM&L Theater's production of Picnic turns out to be just that for the audience as well as the cast.

Backed by this sure-fire cast, director Tom Hausman Lake Villa, does a fine job of recreating the 1950's small town atmosphere, nostalgically reminiscent of "Our Town" in this version of the production, the authentic set forming a fine background.

This time the show stealer turns out to be a veritable theatrical neophyte, 18 year old Ruth Heilgeist, Wilmet, whose sympathetic interpretation of Millie Owens is extremely believable and enjoyable.

Bill Shershon's portrayal of the pathetic 50's macho man is a good one, more creditable since Shershon stepped into the role at a late date.

Dee Baum's old maid school teacher more than makes the grade, sometimes laughable, sometimes to be pitied, always real, and everybody will recognize Don Beveroth's Howard, so naturally recreated.

The pretty, winsome Pam Guardi as Madge, the heroine and her concerned, rather touching, mother, well played by Anne Marie Cina, always dependable when it comes to a good performance, both add to the plays credits.

Also, as expected, is Lillian Allen's usual good adaptation of the next door neighbor.

Although the play is not an earthshaking one, the fine performances of the actors will insure an enjoyable evening out at any of the remaining performances, June 15, 16, 22 and 23.

SHOCKING MOMENT — Madge, played by Pam Guardi, and Hal, (Bill Shershon), embrace, oblivious to dismayed reaction of snoopers, Rosemary, (Dee Baum) and Christine Schoenwalder (Rose Johanson). Scene is from PM&L's production of "Picnic" opening June 15 and continuing June 16, 22, 23 and July 9. — Photo by Nancy Pouler.

Tiger Muskies at Lake County

A "transfusion" of tiger muskie was flown into Waukegan Airport to pump needed life into northern Illinois lakes.

The Illinois Dept. of Conservation is obtaining the baby predators compliments of the State of Michigan. The tiger muskies will be kept in rearing ponds at Chain O' Lakes State Park until mid-

July when they can be stocked in Lake Villa's Cedar Lake and other lakes.

The tiger muskie from Michigan are a cross between the northern pike and its larger cousin, the muskellunge. The result is a fish with the size of the muskie but the ability of the northern to survive in warmer water.

Billy Brook Gets Best Test Grade In Lake County - Fourteen of the 50 eighth grade pupils of Lake County having the highest grades in the final examinations were from Antioch eighth grade taught by W.C. Petty. Billy Brook, Antioch, received the highest grade in the county. Minnie Harden, Emmons school, was second, followed by three local pupils, Hazel Hawkins, Harold Nelson, and Donald Snyder.

Walking on the wings of an airplane going 100 miles an hour is as easy as eating ice cream for Eddie Bounsall, Antioch garage owner. Eddie doesn't exclaim or boast of it, he simply "up and does it." He used to have a flying circus in Texas and last Sunday afternoon he thrilled hundreds of persons by his daring antics in Waukegan.

An historical parade is to precede the historical fete which is being given by the Good Fellowship settlement Saturday, June 15, and one of the features will be old settlers of Lake County. Every old-timer who has lived in Lake County 60 years or more is urged to be there at 12 o'clock.

Three hundred slot machines were removed from Lake County resorts, inns, roadhouses, restaurants, poolrooms, and barber shops Wednesday. Ten were taken in Antioch. The machines were taken by various agents of the concerns owning the machines as a safeguard against Chicago gangsters taking over. This action was taken following the theft of 13 machines at two Deep Lake roadhouses by seven gunmen. The men were driving two Cadillac cars and a Graham Dodge truck.

The new bridge carrying the Grass Lake Rd. over Fox River probably will be ready for use early in July, the contractor believes.

Arthur Kreft, Margaret Haling, James Durett, Leo Bogaert, Joan Cervinka, Barbara Ann Forbrich and Uldene Andersen are the first pupils to be graduates from Grass Lake school in exercises at the school building.

A bomb blast, loud enough to be heard in Antioch, was caused when a bomb, believed to have been the work of opposing forces in the current battle to control Lake County rackets was tossed into a place of business on Grand Ave. in Fox Lake. It was believed that the persons responsible for the current gambling "war" had laid down an ultimatum that the locals would straighten out by the 14th of this month but something has happened to cause faster action.

Trustees of the Leila J. Anderson Memorial Scout Home, Main St., Antioch, have this week sent out more than 1,000 invitations to residents of the community inviting them to inspect the home this coming Sunday in celebration of its first year.

Mrs. Fern Lux and her nephews, Robert and Billie Wilton, left Tuesday for a vacation with relatives and friends at Pittsfield.

Lovely Kris-Ann Fournier, 18 freshman at Northern Illinois University at DeKalb, won the Miss Cinderella USA contest. She was one of the 12 finalists and won with her personality, intelligence and appearance. Kris is the daughter of Mrs. Robert Vallumstad of Lake Villa. More than 300 competed in the contest at Boston. She will receive a trip to Rome with all expenses paid.

Several years ago Miss Cornelia Roberts, former Antioch High School instructor, had an idea for a plaque honoring the valedictorian and salutatorian of each graduating class. Through the special efforts of Edna Radke and Fred Stahmer the plaque has been completed and is now on permanent display at the high school.

A major problem was identifying the top two graduates of each class over the 54 years. Special thanks go to Edith Elms, who spent many hours searching through the Antioch News archives for these names. The most recent additions to the plaque are the names of Carol Westlund and Pamela Stewart, the valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively of the class of 1969.

The State Bank of Antioch is celebrating its 75th anniversary this month. The first bank was a private banking firm, Dan Head & Co., and in 1897 the firm was purchased by Edward Brook, a Burlington farmer. His son, J. Ernest Brook was put in charge of the bank and his son, William E. Brook now is president of the financial institutions. The first location of the Bank of Antioch was the Powles building on Lake St. However, in 1900 a fire destroyed the bank's quarters and they moved to Main street and changed their name to the Brook State Bank.

A second bank opened its doors in 1903 in the Somerville building on Main St. and in 1926 the two financial institutions merged to form the State Bank of Antioch.

Two Antioch students received bachelor degrees Monday at Yale University. They are Stephen Lin Chandler and James Allen Steffenburg.

ANNIE MAE

Rainy weekends and sunny gorgeous work-a-day weeks are frustrating to a body like me who enjoys puttering around in the yard with my peonies and petunias.

The rain always seems to come when the Bridal Wreath bush is in its grandest glory and the peonies are finally all the way open. And so, all the lovely blossoms and lush blooms are dashed to the ground.

One couple in Antioch who were too busy inside with a brand new baby to notice the pouring rain were Terry and Trudy Harrison whose little (?) husky nine pound, eleven ounce son Steven Michael was born June 7.

Mom and dad, with big brother Scott 4, and sister Stacey, 3, have been cooing and oohing over the handsome fellow ever since they brought him home.

Grandparents Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison Antioch and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gende, McHenry, are proud as punch over young Steven.

Other proud parents, in town include Antioch Upper Grade Principal, Bill Herbst and his wife who have two smart daughters on the honor roll of Northeast Missouri State Univ., at Kirksville.

Kimberly is a sophomore with at least a 3. grade average while Karla a freshman has a straight "A" average of 4. Keep up the great work girls, it takes a lot of toil to get such high grades in college.

Speaking of schools, I hear there is a hotbed of "Avelinism" in the main office of the high school. I'm not sure what an Avelini is, but I gather it is mostly a fall and winter disease. However, a virulent form of it has caught hold and continues unabated throughout the spring and looks like into the summer as well.

Just got my Antioch Parks and Recreation T shirt and I must say it looks real fetching on me. It is just the thing for jogging around town in.

So, off I go, all around town, watching for Antioch happenings.

Sentence for Zoll is delayed

A status check will be made prior to setting a sentencing date for a man found guilty of unlawfully restraining a 19-year-old Antioch woman.

"The judge took a post-trial motion under advisement," said Karen Kilkelly, a senior court clerk.

Wayne T. Zoll, 24, had been found guilty by a nine-woman, three-man jury in Judge Thomas Doran's court. He was to be sentenced June 7.

On Sept. 30 the Antioch woman agreed to give Zoll a ride home from the Las Vegas Restaurant in Antioch.

The woman said Zoll directed her to a location near Fairfield Road where he forced her to stop. She testified that he then pulled her from the auto and began removing her clothes as well as his.

Zoll fled when a Lake County Sheriff's deputy arrived on the scene.

Snow skiing does not stop during summer

BY MICHEAL H. BABICZ
SPORTS EDITOR

When people speak of skiing during the summer months, thoughts usually turn to the water.

Not so for a 23-year-old Antioch man. His thoughts turn to the white powder snow.

Gordy Silianoff is a professional free style skier and he is in constant training 12 months out of the year.

Monday, Wednesday and Friday he works out at the Nautilus in Gurnee. The work with the weight machines helps him to build strength and endurance.

Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday means jogging and workouts on the trampoline. The running helps to build endurance and the trampoline assists him in training for the aerial portion of the competition along with building body coordination.

Free style or "hot dog" skiing as it is sometimes called, consists of three events at both the amateur and professional levels.

THE FIRST IS AERIALS which consists of upright and inverted maneuvers. "An example of an inverted maneuver would be a double twisting triple flip," according to the runner-up in both the 1976-77 and 77-78 Amateur National Championships.

The difference in the routines from amateur to professional is that amateurs only perform "upright aerials" such as "a helicopter". Also, the amateurs only have two jumps while the professionals have three with a requirement of two inverts and one upright.

"The training on the trampoline is extremely helpful in preparing for aerials" proclaimed the 1976-77 and 77-78 Rocky Mountain Champion.

Also used to assist in training for jumps is a water ramp which simulates a ski hill. These are extremely costly to build and are also very large because they go very high into the air.

BALLET-SKING is the second event. This is performed "on a smoothly groomed, gentle slope" which combines choreography and difficulty in moves.

"It is done to music and closely resembles figure skating on ice", the 1979 Pro Mogul Champ of Steamboat Springs Colo. relayed.

An extremely unusual move which is used in ballet called "the camel thumper" was invented by Silianoff.

The third event is the "moguls" or "bump skiing" as it is sometimes referred to. "This event is done over the steepest and most difficult course" explained Silianoff.

Scoring is done in this event by speed, number of turns and the execution of them along with air time which is upright aerial maneuvers.

IN HIS FIRST YEAR as a professional during the 1978-79 season, Silianoff placed third at Song Mountain, N.Y.

The season generally runs from January through April with amateur meets held all over while professional meets are generally outside the United States.

The reason for there not being professional meets in the United States is insurance according to Silianoff. "Aerial maneuvers are extremely dangerous and it is very difficult to get insurance to cover professionals," he explained.

Why does someone do something at which he has already broken a collar bone, sustained cartilage damage to his knees along with several other injuries? "It's an art form for what this section of skiing could be," he explained. "To a figure skater, it is to skate as it is to a skier to ski."

Silianoff has appeared on several skiing promotional movies and was also in an episode of "Charlie's Angels" during February when he performed ballet skiing.

In addition to training during the summer, Silianoff is the flagman and in charge of maintenance at the Waukegan Speedway.

During the winter he does a lot of video filming which also assists him in his skiing.

"The Mad Russian" as he is called on the slopes because of his "hyper style of skiing", will be leaving for Queen's Town, New Zealand June 28 to begin training for the European professional tour which will begin in August.

His winter home is Frisco, Colo. and he is currently sponsored by Head Skies, Spademan Bindings and Scott Boots, which keep him supplied with equipment "which you break a lot of" in freestyle skiing.

These types of events should not be attempted by anyone without taking classes, cautioned Silianoff who instructs people who are interested in learning free style skiing during the winter.

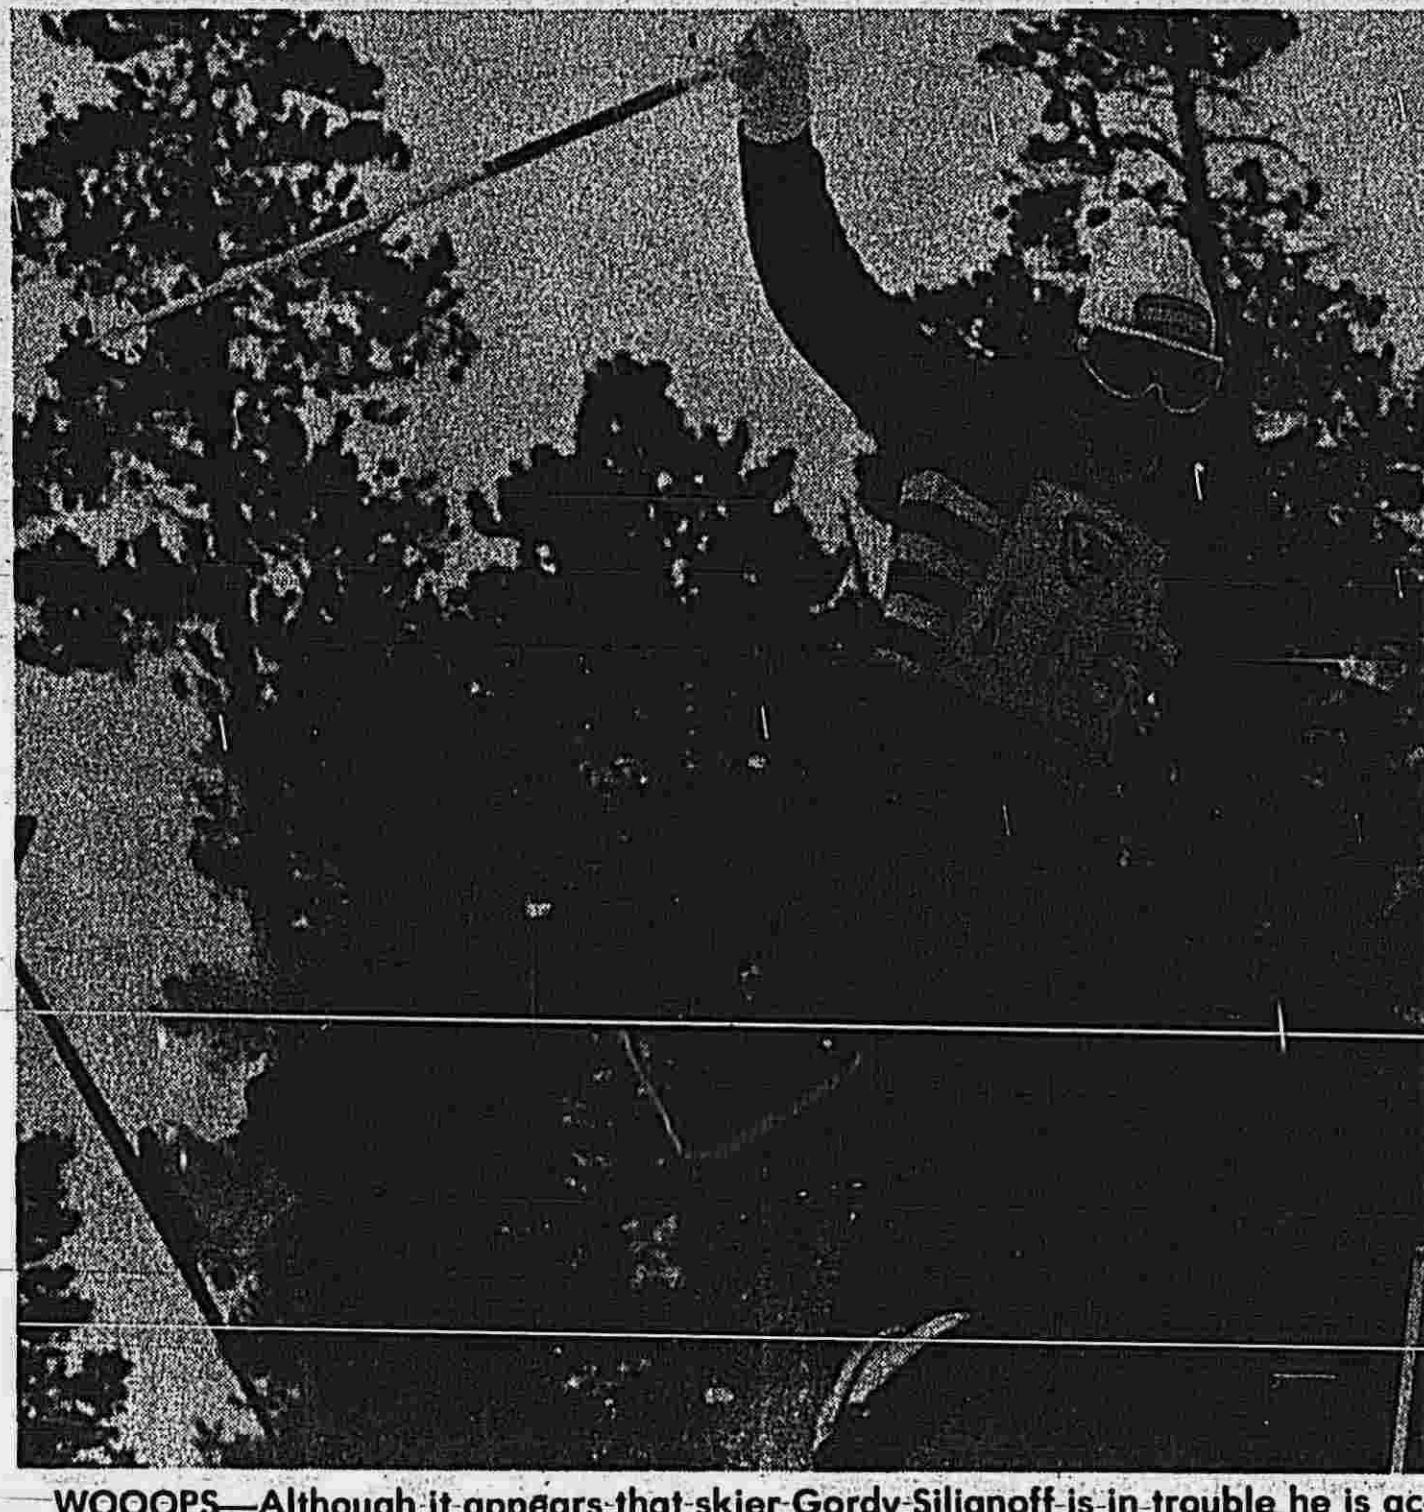

Next time someone is talking about skiing on a hot July afternoon, don't necessarily think that they are talking about water skiing. It could be free style snow skiing.

CONCENTRATION—Gordy Silianoff's face reflects the determination which he must have throughout his training for professional free style skiing.

WOOOPS—Although it appears that skier Gordy Silianoff is in trouble he is actually performing an upright aerial as part of his professional free style routine. This shot was taken at Winter Park, Colo.

Christian Science Church marks 100 years

Area Christian Scientists marked the centennial year of their denomination June 4 acknowledging increased interest in Christian healing.

Harvey W. Wood, Chairman of The Christian Science Board of Directors, spoke to an overflow audience of members of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. He said "growing interest in Christian healing by people of many different faiths" reflected "a reaching out to learn more of man's relationship to God, and the spiritual basis of true health and wholeness."

"These encouraging signs of awakening are clear indication," Wood said "of an awareness that quality of life hinges more on improvement of thought than on accumulation of things."

The Church of Christ, Scientist was founded in 1879 in Boston by religious leader Mary Baker Eddy who, in 1866, discovered Christian Science.

Citing the "self-indulgence, selfishness, and the hedonism of present-day living," Wood said it would take "the prayer of spiritual understanding" to help mankind "find deliverance from the cruelty, debasement and limitations of materialistic thinking."

"In the course of 100 years since the founding of our Church," Wood said "we've learned that there are no easy shortcuts to spiritual growth." It does not come about with the roar of a rocket engine, the dazzling light and 'beat' of the disco, or the soft or hard 'sell' of a TV commercial."

"Spiritual progress," he said, "requires quiet inner listening and obedience to the 'still small voice' and willingness to put off the stridency and harshness of human ways and means."

Members were told of a slight increase in the number of members seeking accreditation as full-time Christian Science practitioners and of new interest in Church membership in Africa and Latin America. The Church was reported free of indebtedness and well-supported by membership contributions.

Mrs. Ada Reynolds Jandron, a Christian Scientist practitioner from Boston, was named President of The Mother Church for 1979-80.

Sgt. Charles Watkins cited for heroism

BY NANCY POULER

Already, in his short 26 year old life, and brief four year career, Antioch Police Sgt. Charles Watkins, has received a special citation for saving a life at risk to his own.

During his service on the North Chicago Police force, Watkins was called to a fire in an apartment house which, when he reached it, was engulfed in flames.

"There were people running out screaming that there was a 70 year old woman still in there," Watkins recalled.

"When I ran in to find her, I had to kick in four doors before I found her. By this time I was having trouble with the thick smoke. When I found her she was disoriented and I had to carry her out," he told.

"I was hospitalized for that and then just two weeks later I got shot in the arm and chest during an armed robbery and was laid up for two and half or three months," Watkins said.

He was honored by a special mayor's citation for the rescue of the fire victim.

He calls the two experiences "unfortunate incidents."

After a year and a half on the North Chicago Police force, Watkins joined the Antioch Police Dept. in January of 1977 as a patrolman.

Now, as Sergeant for the past year and a half, the tall personable young man has charge of three shifts of patrolmen, scheduling their duties and work schedules.

He enjoys his work, despite the ugly side of it, he says, because he looks at it as "being in touch with those who need help."

Most people, he said, are honest and give no trouble. Instead of causing trouble, in Antioch, 90 per cent of the people cooperate with the police, he observed.

When a policeman goes home, he should forget about his work, he advised.

"You can't get personally involved," he believes, "If all that goes through your mind 24 hours a day is police work, you aren't going to be really good to anyone."

"I think all policemen go through the 'John Wayne' syndrome for a couple of years," he laughed and then added, "But, you get out of that pretty quick."

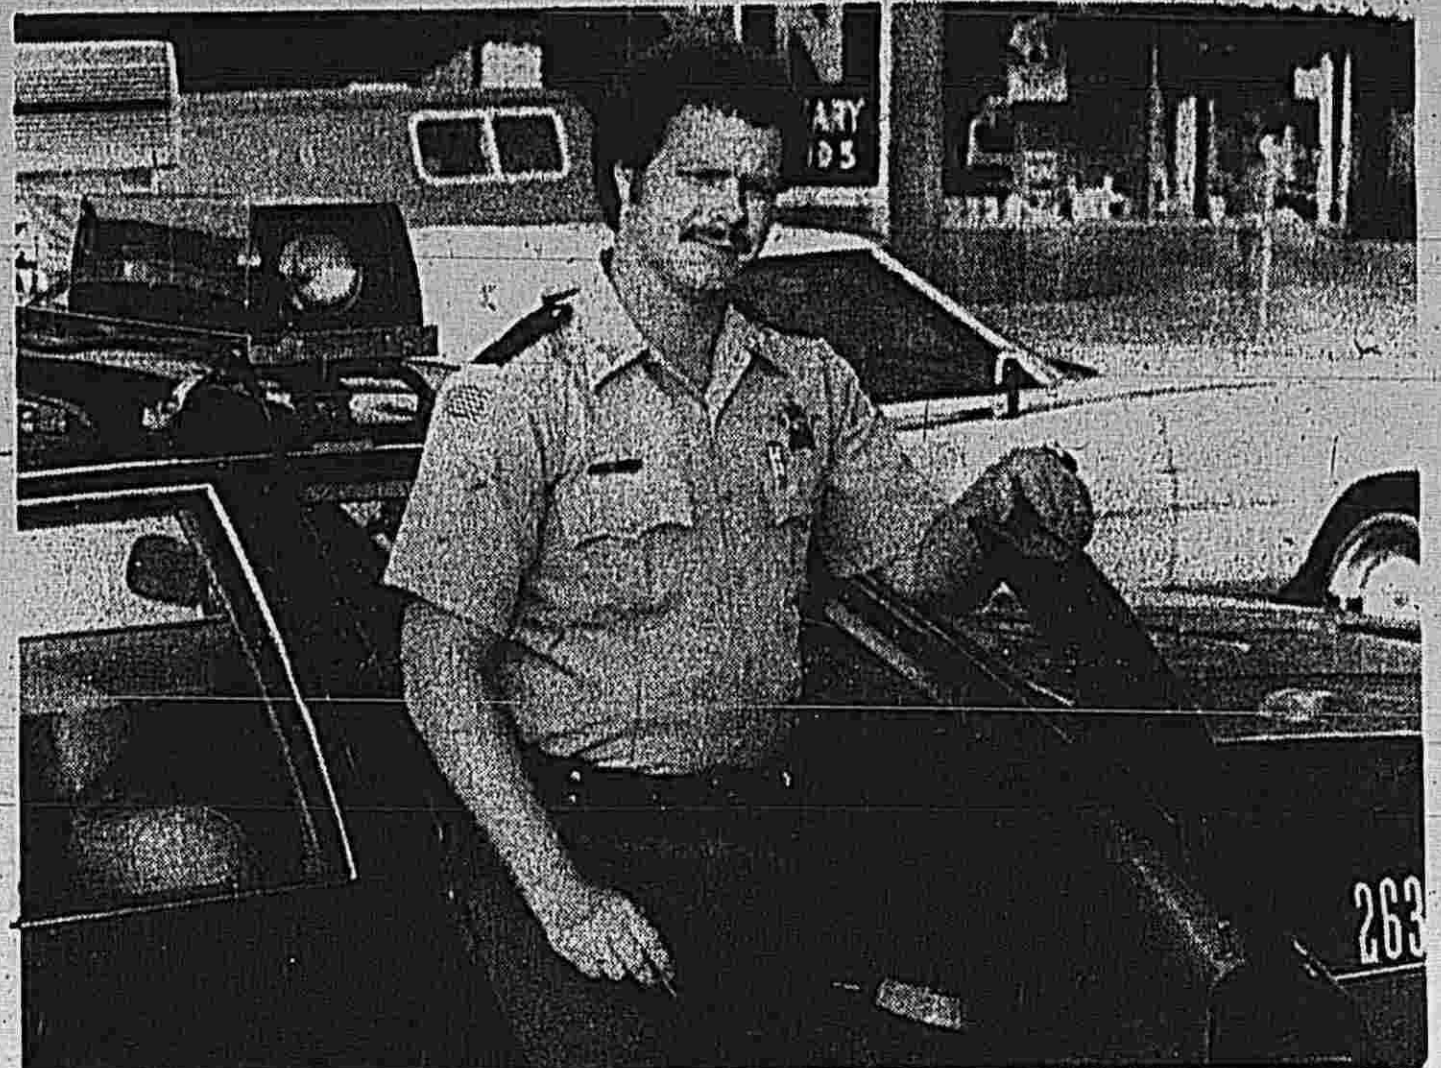

As all of the police personnel I have interviewed have pointed out, Watkins expressed praise for the Antioch Police Force and for its chief, Charles Miller, in particular.

Watkins put it this way, "Antioch has one of the finest police forces in Lake County. The chief makes or breaks a force. Chuck Miller has been fantastic. He can relate to the men. He is firm but flexible."

When not on duty, Watkins most enjoys being with his family and putting around the house.

"I try to be handy," he laughed, "But somehow it ends up I have to pay someone to fix up the messes I've made."

He and his wife Millie spend most of their time with daughters Lisa and Tina. Since Lisa is interested in her dancing classes and is also in The Antioch Grade School Band, they spend a lot of time attending concerts and recitals.
